In the context of nursing, this approach emphasizes the development of nurses' professional growth, collaborative problem-solving, and patient-centered care. Theoretical Foundations Originating from James MacGregor Burns' seminal work in 1978, transformational leadership distinguishes itself from transactional leadership, which is primarily based on exchanges or rewards for performance. Burns described transformational leaders as those who inspire followers to transcend their self-interest for the collective good. Later, Bernard M. Bass expanded on this model, operationalizing key components and applying it to various organizational contexts, including healthcare. Why Transformational Leadership Matters in Nursing Expert literature underscores several reasons why transformational leadership is especially pertinent in nursing: - Enhances patient outcomes by fostering a culture of excellence and continuous improvement. - Supports staff retention through increased job satisfaction and professional development. - Promotes innovation in clinical practice, technology adoption, and organizational change. - Builds resilient teams capable of adapting to complex healthcare environments.

This involves clear communication, setting challenging yet attainable goals, and fostering optimism during times of change or stress. 3. Intellectual Stimulation Transformational nursing leaders encourage innovation and critical thinking. They challenge assumptions, promote ongoing education, and support creative problem-solving to improve patient care and workflow processes. 4. Individualized Consideration Recognizing each nurse’s unique needs and potential, transformational leaders provide mentorship, personalized feedback, and opportunities for professional growth. This nurturing environment enhances job satisfaction and professional identity.

Leaders who foster a culture of safety and accountability motivate nurses to prioritize quality care. Enhanced Nursing Satisfaction and Retention Transformational leaders create supportive environments where nurses feel valued, empowered, and engaged.
